The New Mexico Environment Department prepares this report, as part of its delegated responsibilities, for review and approval by the New Mexico Water Quality Control Commission. Preparation of this edition involved many people both inside and outside of the Department. The editor would like to extend his gratitude for valuable assistance in reviewing and writing the report to Keith Melton and Jennifer Wellman of the Drinking Water Bureau, Dale Doremus, Maura Hanning, Marcy Leavitt, Dennis McQuillan and Jennifer Parker in the Ground Water Quality Bureau, Rusty Rodke and Butch Tongate in the Solid Waste Bureau, Steve Baumgarn, Jim Davis, Don Ditmore, Maxine Goad, Pat Hanson, Dave Hogge, Lorenci Kaniatobi, Steve Pierce, and Elizabeth Reed, in the Surface Water Quality Bureau, Anna Richards at the Underground Storage Tank Bureau, as well as Erik Galloway, Special Assistant to the Director, Water and Waste Management Division.

Several WQCC Commissioners or their designees were instrumental in building this document. Special thanks are extended to Lynn Brandvold at the Bureau of Mines and Mineral Resources, Paul Gutierrez, Member-At-Large, Bill Olson in EMNRD's Oil Conservation Division, Richardo Rel at the New Mexico Department of Agriculture, Bruce Thompson of the Civil Engineering Department at the University of New Mexico, Tom Turney, the State Engineer, and Paul Ritzma, Deputy Secretary at NMED. Several others beyond those mentioned have also contributed to the report as word processors, linguists and final-content reviewers; their patient assistance is kindly remembered and gratefully appreciated.

In closing, the editor would like to extend his humble gratitude to all the fine State employees at the State Printing Offices in Santa Fe who helped make this effort a reality.

Cordially,

Gary King
Editor
