

Jon Klingel

Reuse water should only be used in conjunction with oil and gas work. Regulations need to insure no chance of reuse water contaminating fresh ground or any surface water. Fines for any contamination should be very significant.