

Caroline Scruggs

Do these restrictions include deep well injection of produced water? It seems like they should since we can't afford to be contaminating any of our aquifers, even ones that don't seem valuable right now. Plus deep well injection comes with risk of seismic activity.