

Ollie, the ozone monster eats air. His favorite is dirty air, which has a lot of extra stuff in it – stuff his teacher calls “pollution.” He doesn’t care. He just keeps gobbling up stinky air. Sometimes, he burps and out comes ozone. It always surprises him because, after a while, it turns brown and floats away. His mom says it’s rude. But he just says, “What do you expect? I’m a monster!”
